New Student Orientation
Success at Delaware Valley College begins with a smooth transition from high school (or another college) to DVC. The College’s two-part orientation program helps facilitate this transition. The June orientation program focuses on preparing students for their academic entrance into Delaware Valley College by providing required testing and academic advising sessions for all new students. The orientation program also focuses on welcoming students and families to the College through activities that introduce them to members of the DVC community. The August Weekend of Welcome is a more intense introduction and integration of new students into college life. Activities are designed to prepare students for many aspects of academics and student life that they might experience as a new student at Delaware Valley College. Participation in both programs is mandatory.

Orientation Leaders are students who assist in the welcoming of new students during the summer and fall orientation programs. These students act as friendly contacts and resources as new students make their transition to the College. This is a paid position open to upper-class students with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5.

Community Service
DVC Students are committed to the spirit of community service. Most students are involved in projects and activities through student clubs and Greek organizations. Additionally, the Office of Student Involvement organizes campus-wide community service programs. Students at DVC have many opportunities to engage in community service. Examples include Alternate Spring Break, Habitat for Humanity Builds, and American Red Cross Blood Drives.

Students are encouraged to come to the Office of Student Involvement with their community service ideas. Student Involvement seeks to promote students’ involvement in community service and will help every student organize their ideas to serve the community.

Clubs and Organizations
The College believes that co-curricular activities are a vital part of the total college experience. A wide range of co-curricular clubs, organizations and activities are available to allow students to explore interests outside the traditional classroom environment. They also provide students with opportunities to develop leadership skills, establish new personal relationships, and broaden their exposure to real-world opportunities.

The Student Government Board and the organizations within it play a principal role in the governance and operation of many student activities. Student Government Board representatives and officers are elected by the students. The organization, functions, and responsibilities of the Student Government are detailed in its constitution which is published in the Student Handbook (a copy of which is provided to each registered student and is available online).

The various clubs and organizations on campus (listed below) act as the primary conduit for student interests and provide a variety of opportunities for involvement. These groups plan and organize numerous activities including movies, concerts, speakers, field trips, workshops, dances, and more. Some of them are affiliated with a specific major or with a special interest within a major; some are service-oriented; still others speak to student interests wholly outside the College’s programs. Code of Conduct
If a college community is to function properly, there must be community standards and expectations for students. A detailed list of policies and procedures is included in the Delaware Valley College Student Handbook which is issued to each student. This code of conduct promotes the proper atmosphere necessary for the student to thrive academically and socially.
Any activity or behavior that infringes on the rights, safety, property, or privileges of others or which impedes the normal operation of the College, is detrimental to the college mission. Additionally, students are reminded that they are residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the municipalities of New Britain Borough and Doylestown Township and, as such, are responsible for obeying all state and local laws.

Since failure to adhere to college policies and procedures may result in disciplinary action, students are expected to review the Student Handbook carefully.

Health Services
The College makes every effort to have a positive impact on the health experiences of the student. Full time students are encouraged to use the valuable resources that are available at the Student Health Center. Services include health promotion and disease prevention as well as illness treatment. Physician’s services are available to the student on a daily basis Monday through Friday.

At the beginning of each academic year, all full time students are required to submit a physical form which includes a physician’s exam. Additionally, all full time students are required to carry health insurance. The College offers a health insurance plan for those students who are not otherwise covered. All full time students will receive information from the College’s insurance carrier to verify health insurance coverage. Students who do not provide the required proof of insurance will automatically be enrolled in a health insurance plan at their own expense.

Medical conditions that require continuous care, specialized or surgical interventions are handled either by referral or return to the primary physician at the student’s expense. The College assumes no financial responsibility for the medical, surgical or dental services required by the student.

Athletics
Athletic activities, including intercollegiate and intramural events, are an important component of the educational experience for the individual at Delaware Valley College. The essential value of athletics is participation. The program seeks to integrate athletic involvement with the College’s academic objectives. Lifetime physical fitness, the self-discipline of individual achievement, the value of cooperation in a mutual struggle, the capacity to deal with success and failure, and the ability to perform under stress are all qualities learned in athletic competition and can be carried over into the educational experience and lifelong learning.

The College is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA, Division III), The Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC), and the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Corporation (MAC).

Intercollegiate sports are offered for both male and female student athletes. Sports for men include baseball, basketball, cross-country, football, golf, soccer, track and field, and wrestling. Women compete in basketball, cross-country, field hockey, soccer, softball, track and field, and volleyball.

Additional program offerings include a broadly supported intramural program. Some of the activities scheduled are as follows: touch football, volleyball, basketball, softball and tennis. Membership is held with the National Intramural Sports Association (NISA).

Other Organizations
In addition to the intercollegiate athletic teams, several other student groups also compete with students representing other colleges and universities. The College sponsors both English and Western Intercollegiate Equestrian Teams, and Intercollegiate Judging Teams compete regionally and nationally in the evaluation of dairy cattle, livestock, and soils. Students in the Dairy and Animal Science programs play active parts in fitting and showing animals in a number of regional and state competitions. Each year, students from the Ornamental Horticulture and Environmental Design Department design and produce an exhibit for the Philadelphia Flower Show. All of these activities require considerable time and dedication by the participating students and the faculty members who coach and advise them. The experiences gained by the students, however, are of incalculable value.

One of the most exciting annual activities at Delaware Valley College is A-Day. This certified Pennsylvania State Fair is staged each year over the last weekend in April, providing students with the opportunity to showcase their skills and programs. A-Day is the product of months of preparation under the leadership of a representative student committee that is encouraged and advised by a faculty and staff committee. It features livestock exhibitions and judging contests, an extensive floral design exhibition, exhibits produced by the various majors and student organizations, live entertainment, contests of skill and much more, in a country fair atmosphere that brings thousands of visitors to the campus each spring.
Cultural Activities

Delaware Valley College is committed to the cultural development of its students by extending student activities into cultural areas. Student publications include the student newspaper, The RamPages; the student literary magazine, The Gleaner; and the yearbook, The Cornucopia. Students may earn 1 credit for each semester of participation in these publication activities.

The College’s music program includes the Jazz Band, String Ensemble, Chorale, and Community Concert Band, each of which offer several concerts each year and participate in annual programs such as Homecoming, Founders’ Day, A-Day and Commencement. Students may earn 1 credit for each semester of participation in Chorale or Community Concert Band.

Additionally, the Drama Club provides an artistic and creative outlet that produces quality performances throughout the year.

These cultural programs are supplemented by a variety of on-campus programs and off-campus field trips sponsored by the Liberal Arts Department, featuring artists and technicians that bring a diverse range of talents to the students of Delaware Valley College.
