

Delaware Valley University's Food Systems Institute

Seminar Series on Urban Agriculture

WHAT IS URBAN AGRICULTURE?

Seminar 1: Community Roundtable Discussion

February 09 2016 6PM – 7:30PM

Moungis Auditorium, Student Center, Delaware Valley University

DeVal's Food Systems Institute is starting off the semester with a round table discussion on defining agriculture. Where does agriculture occur? Can gardening ever be considered farming? Where do we typically purchase food and how is that food produced?

Roundtable facilitators will be members of the FSI Steering Committee.

Please join us to start the discussion!

Students, faculty, and community members welcome!
Light snacks will be provided.
